DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 44-53, drawn to a method of preparing a processed food for heating.

Group II, claim(s) 54-57, drawn to a food additive composition.

Group III, claims 58-62, drawn to a processed food comprising a food additive.

The special technical feature linking the inventions of Group I, II and III share the same technical feature of including bean powder in the food, where the bean powder is specifically lima bean powder or deodorized bean powder. However US 5902629 teaches this technical feature (col. 2 lines 65-67 and thus this special technical feature is known in the art as evidenced by US 5902629. Therefore, the special technical feature fails to define a contribution over the prior art and unity of invention is lacking between the three groups.

The groups of inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they further lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Group I, drawn to an method, lacks the same special technical features with that of Group II since Group II requires at least one further component consisting of water absorbent vegetable fiber, an inorganic calcium compound and modified cellulose, thus the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product i.e. a product without at least one further component consisting of water absorbent vegetable fiber, an inorganic calcium compound and modified cellulose. Thus Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they further lack the same or corresponding special technical features.

Group I, drawn to a method, lacks the same special technical features with that of Group III since Group III requires at least one further component consisting of water absorbent vegetable fiber, an inorganic calcium compound and modified cellulose, thus the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product i.e. a product without at least one further component consisting of water absorbent vegetable fiber, an inorganic calcium compound and modified cellulose. Thus Groups I and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they further lack the same or corresponding special technical features.

Groups II and III are directed to related products comprising bean powder and at least one further component consisting of water absorbent vegetable fiber, an inorganic calcium compound and modified cellulose. However the products of Group I and II, have a materially different design, since Group III requires a processed food comprising the food additive, where Group II does not require the inventive concept of the additive in conjunction with a second food, and thus the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention or species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions have unity of invention (37 CFR 1.475(a)), applicant must provide reasons in support thereof. Applicant may submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. Where such evidence or admission is provided by applicant, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
